The income from the Bingo with the assistance of some grants have given us one of the best Social Centre's in Ireland.

As we celebrated with John on Thursday evening, we also remembered those who were responsible for this facility and who worked so hard to realise their dream. John, thanks again you really made a difference within our community for the past 50 years. Your contribution and dedication will never be forgotten. Just A Thought

St. Brigid (450-524 AD)

St Bridget, also known as Brigit, Brigid was born to a pagan Chieftain in Co. Louth in the 5th Century, but treated as a slave by her father. When her father was dying, he delirious and in those times, rushes were on the floor in most houses to keep the floor clean and warm. Bridget stooped down and picked up some rushes and wove them into a cross, explaining the Blessed Trinity to him and he converted and was baptized at the point of death. She entered the convent and did great work with the poor and opened lots of convents through the country.

St. Bridget Crosses are traditionally made on 1st February and are hung over the door to protect the house from fire and evil. A new cross is made each year, and the old one is either burnt to protect the house from fire and or put in the shed to protect the animals. St. Bridget is the patron saint of babies, midwives, scholars, poets, travellers and farmers.

A poem of welcome for Saint Brigid, composed by the late Fr. Tom Hamill helps sum up the many roles of our co-patron. In abridged form, Fr Hamill's 'Thirteen shouts for Saint Brigid' read: Brigid-You usher in the Spring. Brigid- You welcome all who visit. Brigid- you guard our families and flocks. Brigid- you shelter the poor in your cloak. Brigid -you inspire singers and writers. Brigid-you strengthen workers in metal. Brigid-you guide the hands of healers. Brigid-you soften the hate that divides us. Brigid-you cherish what comes to birth. Brigid- you mirror Jesus in your life. Brigid- you bless our wells and streams. Brigid- you smile in sea and sky. Brigid-you embrace us deep in your heart.
